NU-TON-NIK. WHAT IS IT?

Nu-Ton-Nik is it. Man cannot make it. You need it. No home should be without it. After you use it, you will not be without it. Nature gave it. Blood from cut or hurt, you want to stop it. It will do it. Try it. Poor appetite, impure blood and general run down system, you want to build it up. It will help it. Just try it. You can't bear it. Diarrhoea, flux, if you want to stop it, it will do it. Try it. Indigestion, dyspepsia, if you want relief from it, all we ask is to try it and take it; see what results you receive from it. Burns, sores, eczema, you want to heal it. You use it, it will do it. Woman, if you have female troubles, whites, and want relief from it, you try it. You will never regret it; will wonder how have done without it. Alcohol, added drugs, harmful or habit-forming ingredients it has not got. Nature gave it. Ask your druggist for it. He will sell it. If he has not got it, he can get it. Takes only one dollar to get it. If not satisfied with results from it, your money back if you want it. You can't lose in getting it. After you have used it, we want you to tell your neighbors and friends your verdict. Try it. You may gain your health with it; then you should be glad of it, so get it and try it, before you forget it. Nu-Ton-Nik is it. Just call for Nu-Ton-Nik. That is the name, that will get it. M. H. James' drug store has it. Remember it is Nu-Ton-Nik.

Spain's Royal Palace.
From one who paid a visit not long ago to King Alfonso at Madrid comes a wonderful account of his palace. It is bigger than either Buckingham palace or Windsor and is rarely inhabited by less than 2,000 people. On entering the palace one sees some 150 lackeys flitting about in different directions, and at the foot of the stairs and on the landings stand halberdiers in their uniforms of white and black and tricorne hats. The lift that carries you to the upstairs apartments is all rose colored brocade and cut glass—quite glorious within. The room where their majesties receive the diplomatic corps is noted for the beauty of the blue silk walls and clock with a life size figure of "Time" carrying the earth—a globe which forms the clock. Here are four superb chandeliers of rock crystal, set in gold filigree. The works of art include two beautiful pictures by Goya. Queen Mary Louise of Parma and Charles IV. of Bourbon. The state dining room is famous for its frescoes and tapestries and Sevres vases that are not less than six feet high—the loveliest examples of blue china.—London Gentleman.

Washington a Mecca of Diplomats.
In no capital are there as many foreign diplomats as there are in Washington. This is because all the Latin American states as well as European and Asiatic have embassies or legations in this country, and some of them do not maintain full missions elsewhere. Not all of these foreign representatives are kept busy by their regular duties, however, but they communicate with the state department whenever an opportunity offers, and sometimes they create the opportunity. Their notes must be treated with punctilious consideration without reference to the importance of the contents. One note may be only a request for an order to admit free of duty at a custom house a basket of champagne and another may inclose the draft of a treaty, but the state department must attend to the champagne as well as the treaty; otherwise it will irritate the representative of a friendly nation.—Gallard Hunt in Harper's Magazine.

How to Tell a Celebrity.
He always selects the most conspicuous table in a restaurant. He is always looking for some one to recognize him on the street.

He invariably leads the conversation around to his own achievements.

He generally wears clothes, hats or ties a little different from any one else's.

He's a far better talker than he is a listener.

He always laughs loudest at his own jokes.

His wife always wears a worried look.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The Illusion.

"So you are going to get married, eh?"

"Yes; the longing for a little home where I can put my feet against the wall, brace my chair back and smoke my pipe in comfort got to be too much for me."

"That's a beautiful dream!"

"Isn't it?"

"So beautiful that it will be a shame for you to get married and spoil it!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Didn't Get It.

A man walked into a pawnbroker's shop one day and demanded $5 because there was a placard in the window that read, "Look at this watch for $5."

"I looked at it," he said, "and now I want my money."—New York Globe.

Wrong Protestation.

"Darling, I could be satisfied in a hut with you."

"I believe you would. That's the reason I'm going to marry George. He won't."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Work Delayed.

"I hear young Mrs. Boggs is going to break her husband's will."

"She's late in doing it. Most wives attend to that at the start."—Baltimore American.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Common Colds.

Two classes of common colds are recognized by Dr. F. P. Smart in a Virginia medical review.

The infectious cold gradually passes to the entire family. The vasomotor cold is due primarily to exposure—exposure which, by lowering resistance in the head, permits the normal scavenger germs of the nose to become parasitic. When the feeling that a fresh cold is coming on is experienced the simplest preventive is a little vigorous exercise or a rapid succession of deep respirations. This is often effective, but if the vasomotor cold is not promptly broken up it develops the symptoms and dangers of the other class, except the infection. The treatment suggested as probably the best includes a brisk purge, a hot foot bath at night, a glass of hot lemonade, ten grains of Dover's powder, keeping well covered and late morning rising. The complications liable to attend the cold that has become established are often overlooked or neglected and require special treatment to keep the nasal passages freely drained and ventilated and to provide for the removal of the irritating products.
